Exciting momentum at the SCI Production Facility! Message from the Executive Director

On Wednesday, June 25th I was joined by our Leadership Team and our Business Office at the Grow Clinton Annual Meeting at the Wild Rose Casino. This event represents Grow Clinton's commitment to our community and is filled with updates on new projects and events that are happening around our area as well as a recap of the previous year in Clinton. Grow Clinton also takes time to recognize members of our community who have been nominated and selected to receive awards in multiple categories. On this night, I was completely shocked and surprised to have been nominated and selected to receive the Manager of the Year award during the ceremony. This was one of the most humbling experiences that I have ever been a part of and I was completely honored to accept the award as a representative of our great agency. I am so thankful for the nomination, the recognition, and the award. I am a firm believer that great coaches or managers can only exist if they have people that can be coached or managed. My success doesn't happen without your success, and I am so lucky to have an organization of people who buy into what we are trying to do. The award is as much yours as it is mine (although, I'm not letting it go for anything) and I thank you all for contributing to our success.

Speaking of success, the award that I received wasn't the only one given to a Skyline Center employee on this wonderful night. Our very own Marketing Director, Tricia Kane, received the Karl Schmitz Memorial Award for Outstanding Ambassador. For those of you who don't know, Grow Clinton Ambassadors are the members of Grow Clinton wearing the red jackets whenever you see a ribbon cutting. Tricia was recognized for her continued commitment to attending the ribbon cutting ceremonies and supporting businesses throughout our community. She has also recently recruited our very own Claire Johnson from Day Hab to be a fellow ambassador and escorts Claire to all of the ribbon cuttings. There have been many respected members of our community that have received this award over the last several years, making it a prestigious accomplishment and we are all extremely proud of Tricia and her role in representing Skyline Center as an ambassador. Way to go Tricia!
